Timely Tidbits ...

Kwanzaa Discussion

The African American Book Club will present a discussion on "Kwanzaa: The Celebration of Family, Community, and Cultural Traditions, Old and New" at the Romulus Public Library (11121 Wayne Road) on Wednesday, December 18, from 6:30 to 8 p.m. All ages are invited. Refreshments will be served. For more information, call the Library: 734-942-7589.

Breakfast with Santa

St. Aloysius School (37200 Neville) invites the community to attend its "breakfast with Santa" program on Saturday, December 14, from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m.

After enjoying a breakfast of eggs, sausage, hash browns, fresh fruit, bagels, pastries, cereal, juice, and coffee/tea/milk, children will have an opportunity to do their own Christmas shopping at Santa's Secret Shop, which features gifts for all ages at reasonable prices. The St. Aloysius Youth Group will be on hand to assist children with gift-wrapping their purchases, free of charge.

Other attractions will include a craft table, where kids can make an ornament to take home, and a coloring table for all the little ones.

A ticket price of $5 per child ($6 per adult) includes a complimentary photo with Santa. Additional photos are $3 each. All proceeds go to the St. Aloysius Youth Group Scholarship Program.

For more information, call Julie Wadsworth at 734-941-3340 or e-mail juliewads@yahoo.com.

Save UPC Labels

The Romulus Animal Shelter is collecting Spartan-brand UPC labels to raise money for a new building. Every 1,000 labels turned in will result in an additional $20 for the shelter. All Spartan products are eligible except 12-oz. cans of pop, refrigerated biscuits, and spices. Labels may be dropped off at the shelter on Goddard just east of Wayne Road, or at your neighborhood school. For more information, call 734-942-7591. □

New Judge Welcomed at 34th District Court

Thirty-fourth District Court Judge-elect David Parrott (left) is welcomed by the court's incumbents, Chief Judge Tina Brooks Green and Judge Brian A. Oakley.

Thirty-fourth District Court Judge-elect David M. Parrott visited judicial colleagues at the court on November 8, receiving a personal tour of the facility from Chief Judge Tina Brooks Green and Judge Brian A. Oakley, and taking advantage of the opportunity to meet the individual department supervisors and staff.

The 42-year-old Parrott – an attorney for 17 years – is a member of the Southfield law firm of Sullivan, Ward, Bone, Tyler & Asher, P.C. Parrott has begun winding down his law practice to assume his judicial role in January.

"It's been a wonderful morning," said Parrott. "I'm looking forward to working with Judge Green, Judge Oakley, and a great court staff."

Although Judge Green is sorry to see her current colleague, Judge William J. Szlinis, retire, she is excited about working with the newly elected Parrott.

"I look forward to January and the three of us developing new programs for the communities we serve," said Green. □

Pool Complex Dedication Set for December 5

The Romulus Community Schools will dedicate the district's new swimming pool complex during a special ceremony to be held in the Romulus High School atrium at 9 a.m. on Thursday, December 5.

District and city officials, area dignitaries, and Romulus residents are all invited to take part in this memorable occasion. Anyone planning to attend is asked to RSVP Dick Kruse at the district's administrative office (734-532-1626).

The pool complex, which has already opened, features several types of activities/instruction. For example, the fourth-grade classes at Halecreek School have each had eight afternoon swimming classes in a program that will eventually include all district fourth-graders. RHS swimming instructor Jason Balcom is assisted by water-safety instructor Deborah Leggieri and student lifeguard aides Ryan Boyd and Rebecca Thornton during these lessons.

Balcom also teaches swim classes for beginning and advanced students at RHS throughout the school day.

Community "open swimming" times are currently scheduled from 6 to 7 a.m. on Mondays and Wednesdays, and from 3 to 5:30 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Residents can contact the Romulus Adult/Community Education office at 734-532-1953 for further information.

Pool director Lance Knudson and Adult/Community Education director Bill Musham say they are planning additional offerings, and are considering youth swimming lessons, senior-citizen swims, and water-aerobics classes.

Superintendent of schools Joel R. Carr says he is "very proud to present this state-of-the-art facility to the community," and he notes that the dedication and following complex-tour will be "a memorable occasion for all."

No Recount Requested

To the voters of Michigan:

Since Election Day, my primary concern has been to ensure that the voters of Michigan receive an accurate accounting of the Attorney General's race. This race has been the closest statewide race in more than fifty years. Less than two-tenths of one percent separates the candidates. In some states, such a slim margin would trigger an automatic recount.

Over the weekend, I reviewed a detailed precinct-by-precinct analysis of election results in the Attorney General's race. Anomalies, errors, and irregularities were uncovered. Some have been corrected. Others have not been.

Although I believe a recount would uncover additional anomalies and errors, and further narrow the gap in this extremely tight race, I am not convinced that a recount would alter the ultimate result. Given this, I will not request a recount. Rather than subject the voters of Michigan to a protracted electoral and legal battle, I believe it is time to move forward. I have telephoned my opponent, Mike Cox, and offered him my congratulations and wished him well.

This was a hard-fought campaign and would not have been possible without the countless hours of effort put forth by family, my staff, and my supporters. I want to thank all the tremendous individuals and organizations for their hard work, determination, faith, and commitment. Although this campaign is over, I will continue fighting for the people and the principles that brought me to public service.

Sincerely,
Gary C. Peters
Democratic candidate for
Attorney General

Commentary Appreciated

To the editor:

I thought that Cassandra George Sturges's "Guest Commentary" – titled "No Need To Apologize For Barbershop: Some Blacks Can Handle The Truth" (TRN, October 18, 2002) – was very well written. I, too, saw Barbershop, and I share her feelings about it.

I would like to thank Ms. Sturges for writing her commentary because it expressed the thoughts of many people.

Sincerely,
Frances Holmes

Use Your Seat Belts!

To Michigan motorists:

The City of Romulus has joined forces with over 12,000 other law-enforcement agencies in a nationwide effort to promote seat-belt and child-restraint use. As you are aware, the driver, front-seat passengers (regardless of age), and back-seat passengers under 18 years of age must wear seat belts while in a motor vehicle in the State of Michigan; small children must be restrained in child safety seats at all times.

Thanksgiving is one of the most dangerous holidays for motorists, according to the National Safety Council. In Michigan, 12 people lost their lives in traffic crashes during the 2001 Thanksgiving holiday. We hope to reduce this statistic for the 2002 holiday season.

To those of you who put your seat belt on only when you see a police officer on the street: We, the police officers, see you, too. Sometimes we are on our way to handle a complaint; sometimes we just let it slide, saying to ourselves, "At least he/she has the belt on now." Your action tells us that you know about the seat-belt law. It also tells us that enforcement campaigns like "Click It or Ticket" have a positive effect on seat-belt use by motorists in the State of Michigan. I hope you realize that if you only put on your seat belt when you see an officer, that may be too late. The officer may choose to give you a ticket or, worse, you may find yourself part of the scene of an accident, when it really is too late. The seat belt could have saved you from injury or death.

The Romulus Police Department will participate in the "Click It or Ticket" campaign this year by using high-visibility patrols for the strict enforcement of seat-belt and child-restraint violations through December 8. The law-enforcement community as a whole, as well as the Romulus Police Department, will be out in force to promote compliance with the seat-belt laws of the State of Michigan – and, hopefully, to promote a safe and happy holiday season for everyone.

Please: wear your seat belt; buckle up your children. The life you save may be your own or that of a loved one.

You may not agree with this law, but it's a law that we all can live with.

Sergeant Clifford West
Romulus Police Department

Just a Caution!

To the editor:

I'm writing this letter to area motorists who may not be aware that the traffic light at the corner of Wayne and Goddard roads has changed.

For years, drivers on northbound and southbound Wayne Road faced a "three-way traffic signal" at the Goddard intersection, with motorists able to turn left on a green-arrow signal while oncoming traffic was stopped at a red light. As of last week, however, the light has been changed, and drivers no longer have the "left-on-green-arrow" option.

Unfortunately, some people have not noticed this change, and they are attempting to turn left onto Goddard without waiting for oncoming traffic to clear. This has resulted in several close calls.

For safety's sake, please keep this new change in mind, and watch out for other drivers who may not be aware of it yet.

Just a caution!
Sincerely,
A Concerned Citizen □

Health Awareness

Editor's note: In this issue, "the little paper" continues its episodic column called "Health Awareness." Articles appearing in the column are written by students from Romulus High School teacher Terri Brinston's health-occupations classes.

Diabetes Month

by Tiffany Burrell, health-occupations student, Romulus High School

The American Diabetic Association (ADA) is the nation's leading nonprofit health organization that conducts diabetes research. Founded in 1940, the ADA has invested more than $200 million in diabetes research. The mission of the organization is to prevent and cure diabetes and to improve the life of those already affected by the disease.

Diabetes is a disease in which the pancreas does not create insulin to control the glucose level in the blood. This was one of the many diseases that we learned in health occupations at Romulus High School.

Every November, the ADA sponsors the "American Diabetes Month" program for people with diabetes and those who are unaware of the disease. The program's goal is to increase awareness through dilated-eye and foot examinations and blood-glucose and blood-pressure testing. Taking these tests routinely, while also keeping your blood pressure under control, can prevent serious complications of diabetes.

Along with the testing, the ADA sponsors a walk called "America's Walk for Diabetes." The ADA knows that walking can help control diabetes, and so do the 100,000 people who participate each year. The "walkers" come from 245 cities around the country to support the program. The ADA also does a very good job of reaching the community with other health screenings and information about diabetes.

One of out 17 Americans has diabetes and 1 in 3 of them do not know it. My family has a history of diabetes, so I wanted to know more information about the disease and what I could do to prevent it. As a result, I am going to change my diet and increase my exercise level. I don't want to live a life full of needles and sickness due to the complications of diabetes. I have not been diagnosed with diabetes, but I am very aware of the risk of developing the disease, especially since diabetes runs in my family. I will do all I can to lower my risk so that I will live a happy and disease-free life. □

RHS Honors "Students of the Month"

The students – selected by their teachers for excelling behaviorally and academically – were honored during a brief ceremony held on Wednesday, November 13. Those who attended the event received a certificate of achievement and, thanks to the generosity of local sponsors, a $50 U.S. savings bond.

Cory Elementary's Veteran's Day Program Was Patriotic

Cory Elementary School's annual Veteran's Day program was a colorful and patriotic affair.

Students at Cory Elementary were treated to a truly outstanding Veteran's Day program. On hand to greet the students with words of encouragement were several representatives of Romulus Veterans of Foreign Wars (VFW) Post #1869, including James Swanigan, post commander, and Marvin Hamann, the 4th District's junior vice commander.

Principal Phyllis Adkins prepared a detailed document that described the significance of each fold as students Justin Hartman, Cicely Shaw, David Ellis, Cody Barnes, Rodney Cofield, and Joshua Robinson demonstrated folding the American flag. Adkins explained that the first fold is a symbol of life, while the second is a symbol of our belief in eternal life. She also sang a verse of "America the Beautiful" with Cory's choir and music teacher/accompanist Kevin Cook.

The Mistress of Ceremony for the program was Staff Sergeant/Cory fifth-grade teacher Debbie Roberts. Roberts served in the Army for 20 years before completing her educational career at Wayne State University.

Co-parent volunteers Janice Barden and Reverend Rita Talley organized the annual program, which reminds everyone of the sacrifices that others have made to help keep us free. □

Speaker Al Swain Leads Off RHS "Handicapable Week"

Romulus High School special-education teacher/consultant Suzanne Snyder (left) and RHS social worker Rhonda McAllister welcomed special guest Al Swain, the associate director of the Capital Area Center for Independent Living, when he spoke to students about disabilities at an all-school assembly during Handicapable Week.

Guest speaker Al Swain gave the students at Romulus High School some valuable insights into what it is like to be handicapped and how to relate with handicapped individuals. Swain, who is blind and has multiple sclerosis, spoke about his life experiences.

Diagnosed with severe visual problems at the age of nine, Swain attended the Michigan School for the Blind in Lansing. During his senior year there, specialists determined that the cause of his blindness was multiple sclerosis.

Swain had a high-school career as a top student and outstanding wrestler. Then one day at Olivet College, after he had to give up wrestling and became confined to a wheelchair, Swain got the wake-up call of his life. He noted how he was sitting around, feeling sorry for himself, when some of his fraternity brothers took him outside, dumped him into a snow bank, and took away his "excuses."

Swain is the past president of the Michigan Disability Rights Coalition and was recently appointed to the Michigan Commission on Disability Concerns by Governor John Engler. He is also the associate director of a group called the Capital Area Center for Independent Living. This organization is staffed with volunteers and provides vital resources for individuals with disabilities. Swain works to help individuals find housing, employment, and skills training, and also provides insight to peer support groups. He counsels an average of 70 people each month.

Special-education teacher/consultant Suzanne Snyder and social worker Rhonda McAllister organized the 4th annual Handicapable Week at RHS in order to promote the understanding and acceptance of individuals who face physical, visual, articulation, and intellectual challenges.

The opening assembly was followed by SSR reading assignments and video presentations throughout the week. Topics this year included:

- understanding autism,
- emotional impairments,
- FAT (frustration, anxiety, and tension – feelings often common for people with learning disabilities), and
- ADHD (attention deficit hyperactivity disorder). □

The winning entries in Mayor Alan R. Lambert's Holiday Card-decorating Contest featured snowmen – this one by Nigerrrea Simpson ...

... and this one by Deanna Reyes.

Mayor's Card-design Contest Draws Hundreds of Entries

With Christmas just a few weeks away, the excitement of the holiday season is growing – especially with Romulus school children, many of whom participated in Mayor Alan R. Lambert's first annual Holiday Card-design Contest last month.

"The response has been tremendous," said Lambert.

From the 300+ original works of holiday art that were submitted to the mayor's office, 17 finalists were selected, and are currently on display at Romulus City Hall. From those 17, two grand-prize winners were chosen, one for this year's card and one for next. Each of the winners – Deanna Reyes, a student at Halecreek Elementary, and Nigerrrea Simpson, who attends Romulus Elementary School – received a $50 gift certificate from Toys R Us.

"Every piece of art we received is colorful and imaginative," said Stephen M. Jones, the City's director of public relations. "It's great to see how our school system supports and encourages this talent."

Jones was especially grateful to school district art program coordinator/art teacher Nancy O'Connor.

"She personalized the excitement of this contest with the kids," he added.

Romulus residents are encouraged to visit City Hall to view the art of all 17 finalists. Besides Reyes and Simpson, they are: Ryan Beesley, Charelle Brewer, Beizhann Davis, Connor Garcia, David Forbush, Amy Gondek, Megan Hammonds, Angelica Horn, Kristin Lawson, Lauren Nieznalski, Rachel Stanley, Sadie Trammell, Brittany Turner, Samantha Watson, and Mason Witmore. □

Halecreek's Kindergartners Learn About Voting in America

As part of a lesson about voting in the United States, kindergarten children at Halecreek Elementary School recently discussed the importance of voting, and encouraged their parents and grandparents to vote. The fact that we are all different – and that some families, because of their religious beliefs, do not vote – was shared and accepted by the children.

Mrs. Hearod, a precinct monitor at Halecreek, talked to the children about the ballot that some of their parents, grandparents, and teachers would be using. She showed them the ballot and told them that they will be able to vote when they are 18 if they want to. Hearod also showed the students the polling booths, and they held a mock election for the best color: blue or purple.

After the election results were in, the children made a congratulatory card for Governor-elect Jennifer Granholm. They told her that they are counting on her to help make Michigan a good place to grow and learn.

Justice Bowie and Chelsea Gaddis hold the congratulatory card made for Governor-elect Jennifer Granholm by the kindergarten class at Halecreek Elementary School.

Holiday Happenings

City's Programs Offer Welcome Break from Holiday Stress

When December's hectic pace leaves you needing a pick-me-up, why not take time out to attend one of the following seasonal events? They're guaranteed to put the ho-ho-ho back in your holidays!

Santa Arrives!

Santa will make his first official appearance in Romulus on Friday, December 6.

The fun will begin at Romulus Historic Park (located on Hunt Street near the post office), when the Romulus Historical Society and the Romulus Historical Commission will open the museum and the historic Kingsley house – both decorated for the season – from 5 to 8 p.m. Exhibits will include a circa-1860s Christmas table-tree (Kingsley house) and turn-of-the-century Christmas postcards (museum). Entertainment will be provided by the Golden Griffen Stringtet (Kingsley house); refreshments will be available (museum).

At 6 p.m., Santa and another "special somebody" will arrive at the park to help Mayor Alan R. Lambert light the city tree. Afterward, the Recreation Department is inviting everyone to Progressive Hall (near Five Points) to visit with Santa, enjoy light refreshments, and have a picture made ($2) with the Jolly Old Elf.

There is no charge to participate in these events.

Holiday Craft Class

Create a beautiful stepping-stone to show off in your spring garden or give as a Christmas gift when you attend this craft class, to be held at the Recreation Department (36515 Bibbins) on Saturday, December 7, from 9 a.m. to noon. A cost of $35 per student covers instruction and materials such as mosaic pieces and glass gems. Deadline for registration is December 5.

Tree-trim At The Library

The Romulus Public Library (11121 South Wayne Road, at Goddard) invites children and adults of all ages to take part in its annual Holiday Tree-trimming Party, set for Saturday, December 7, beginning at 10:30 a.m. Those who attend will enjoy some good, old-fashioned fun (including the stringing of popcorn and cranberries for garland), and will also have a chance to make two ornaments – one for the Library's tree, one to take home. Although there is no charge to participate, preregistration is required. Call 734-942-7589.

Pistons Basketball Clinic

The Romulus Recreation Department invites children in the first through seventh grades to sign up for this clinic, to be held in the Romulus High School gym (9650 South Wayne Road, north of I-94) from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. on Saturday, December 7. To register, call the Pistons Hotline (248-377-8653). The program's $15 fee must be paid in cash at the door.

Decorating Contest

The City's annual outdoor-decorating contest offers two ways to get into the holiday spirit. If you choose to enter your home in the contest, all you have to do is register your name and address with the Recreation Department. But you don't have to take part in the competition to take part in the fun! Why not register to be a judge, instead? A bus will depart from the Recreation Center at 6 p.m. on Thursday, December 12, to tour all the entries and judge the contest, for which first-, second-, and third-place prizes ($100, $25, and $15, respectively) will be awarded. Cost of the tour is $1. Preregister at the Recreation Center.

Lunch with Santa

The Recreation Department is inviting Romulus youngsters to share lunch and story-time with Santa at the Center from 10 a.m. to noon on Saturday, December 14. A cost of $3 per child covers hot dogs, other refreshments, and a picture with Santa. Preregistration must be made by Friday, December 13.

Pet Pix with Santa Claws

The Romulus Animal Shelter will sponsor a "Santa Claws" photo op for local pet-owners at the old DPW building (corner of Shook and Bibbins, west of Wayne Road) on Saturday, December 14, from 12 to 3 p.m. Cost is $2 per photo. Call the shelter (734-942-7591) for more information.

Holiday Dance

The Romulus Recreation Department will host a holiday dance for all parents/guardians and their children in the Romulus High School cafeteria from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. on Wednesday, December 18. Tickets for a one-parent/one-child couple are $7 (plus $2 per additional child); cost for two-parent/one-child groups will be $10 (plus $2 per additional child). Space is limited to the first 150 tickets sold. No tickets will be available after 5 p.m. on Monday, December 16.

The Velveteen Rabbit

The Recreation Department invites you to see The Velveteen Rabbit – a classic children's tale about how toys become "real" – at the Marquis Theatre in Northville on Thursday, December 26. A cost of $8 covers transportation from the Recreation Center to the theater and back (bus will depart at 1:30 p.m.) and admission to the musical. Deadline for registration is Thursday, December 19.

Holiday Roller-skating

Parent chaperones are welcome to attend the Recreation Department's holiday roller-skating party for children ages 8 and up, set for Friday, December 27, from 12:30 to 3:30 p.m. The $6 cost includes transportation from the Recreation Center to the rink and back, as well as admission and skate rental. The deadline for registration is Monday, December 23.

Letters to Santa

The Romulus Civic League is again sponsoring its "Santa's Mailbox" program. Local children who drop their letters to Santa into the colorful box in front of City Hall (11111 South Wayne Road) will get a personal reply.

Unless otherwise noted, call the City of Romulus Department of Parks and Recreation (734-942-6852) for more information about the above programs.

Romulus Goodfellow Applications Now Available; Donations Sought

Applications Available

The Romulus Goodfellow organization – in keeping with its continuing pledge, "No child (or senior citizen) without a Christmas" – will accept applications for its annual holiday assistance program now through December 9. Applications may be picked up at Romulus City Hall (11111 South Wayne Road), the Romulus Police Department (11165 Olive), or Romulus Fire Station #4 (28777 Eureka Road) during normal business hours.

All applicants must provide proof of income and a photo ID demonstrating Romulus residency, and should be prepared for a brief interview to help the Goodfellows determine their level of need.

Paper Drive Set; Other Donations Also Welcome

The annual Romulus Goodfellow newspaper drive will be held on Friday, December 6, and Saturday, December 7, at intersections throughout the city.

Please give generously; by doing so, you'll be helping a neighbor in need have a happy holiday season.

Also welcome are donations of new, unwrapped toys; items such as coats, hats, and mittens; nonperishable food; and/or cash or gift certificates. Donations may be dropped off at Romulus City Hall (11111 South Wayne Road), the Romulus Police Department (11165 Olive), or Romulus Fire Station #4 (28777 Eureka Road) during normal business hours.

McAlister also believes that the team has a bright future, since many of her top players were only freshmen and sophomores this past season.

Romulus Athletic Director Jesse Meriweather congratulated both the Lady Eagles and Coach McAlister on their successful season.

"Coach McAlister has dedicated herself to the girls' basketball program at Romulus High School," Meriweather stated. "She is enthusiastic, hard-working, always eager to improve, and devotes a lot of her time to the students and the basketball program."

Meriweather also had words of encouragement for the RHS Lady Eagles junior varsity players, who – although not as successful as their "big sisters" on the varsity team – showed promise during the 2002 season. □

Barth School Forms Student Watch/Awareness Team

Barth Elementary teachers and support staff professionals have formed a child-study team that aims to provide significant support for – and accelerate the achievement of – "at-risk" students.

"The Student Watch/Awareness Team is modeled after a highly successful program started in Naranca Elementary School in El Cajon, California," explained district spokesperson Dick Kruse. "Using this approach, the school was able to raise state scores from among the lowest in California to among the highest."

Team members met over a two-day period and discussed academic and nonacademic issues that impact the performance and achievement of every student at Barth. Then, the team used the acquired data to structure appropriate interventions and strategies for each at-risk student.

Learning specialist Dorothy West indicated that the team will reconvene every 10 weeks in order to evaluate and discuss student progress and make adjustments if necessary.

"It was really interesting to combine information from both the academic and social backgrounds of students and come up with an approach that will significantly enhance academic achievement," she noted.

The team will also be inviting parents to attend and participate in future meetings. □

50th Anniversary

Donald J. and Margaret (James) Taylor

After God's blessing of 50 wonderful years of marriage, Donald J. Taylor and Margaret (James) Taylor of Romulus have again affirmed their love for each other with a renewal of their wedding vows.

Father Festus Ejimadu of St. Aloysius Catholic Church performed the ceremony on Saturday, November 2, 2002 – a day after the Taylors' actual anniversary date.

Among those attending the celebration were the couple's seven children and their spouses: Darryl and Sharon (Taylor) Zilka, Donald Jr. and Georgeann Taylor, Edward and Theresa Taylor, Phyllis Taylor and Tom Johnstone, Paul and Judith (Taylor) Delmar, James Taylor, and Thomas and Dawn Taylor. Donald and Margaret have also been blessed with 13 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Happy Birthday!

Eddie Beanum Celebrates #92

Eddie Beanum celebrated his 92nd birthday with family members at a barbecue held last month.

Eddie Beanum – a 60-year resident of Romulus – celebrated his 92nd birthday on November 16, 2002. Just a month earlier, his four daughters, two sons, nine grandchildren, three great-grandchildren, three sisters, and other relatives traveled from as far away as California to barbecue a hog in his honor.

Beanum is a well-known figure in the local community, where he can be seen driving his green pickup to take care of the errands that are a product of his still-busy life-style. He is a deacon at the First Baptist Church of Romulus and also volunteers once a month for a food program at the T.J. Coleman Community Center.

When asked his secret to long life, Beanum replied, "I just lived – but I don't want to see another 92 years!" □
